ABOUT ME

I have been an internet boy since I was a kid. My geekness grow up with me across the years and I finally fell in love with coding. Now I am learning all the basics to become a full stack javascript developer.

Also, I am a proactive person who loves optimization. When I was entrepreneur I learned a lot about productivity, project management and agile methodologies.

I feel fine with OS X or Windows 7/10, but I really enjoy coding in Ubuntu.
